FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO
WESTERN DIVISION – at Cincinnati

HUNTER DOSTER, et al.,	:	Case No. 1:22-cv-00084-MWM
Plaintiffs,	:
v.	:
FRANK KENDALL, et al.,	:
Defendants.	:

DECLARATION OF ATTORNEY ELIZABETH A. BREHM IN SUPPORT OF PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS

The undersigned, Elizabeth A. Brehm, Esq., makes the following declaration:

1. My name is Elizabeth Brehm, and I am, and have been, one of the counsel for Plaintiffs in relation to the above captioned matter. I am an adult over 18 years of age and am an attorney duly licensed to practice law before all courts of the State of New York. I am a partner of the law firm of Siri & Glimstad LLP (“the Firm”) and counsel for Plaintiffs in the above-referenced action. I make this declaration in support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and Costs in the above-referenced action. The following facts are within my personal and professional knowledge and, if called as a witness herein, I can and will competently testify thereto.

2. In my capacity as partner of the Firm and counsel in this case, I supervised the legal team at the Firm representing Plaintiffs, which included a team of partners, associates, and paralegals, and I was also responsible for reviewing filings and other work product related to this case.

3. Given my role, I will address my own credentials as well as those of Aaron Siri, Managing Partner; Mason Barney, Partner; Wendy Cox, Associate Attorney; Dana Smith, Associate Attorney; Catherine Cline, Associate Attorney; Walker Moller, Associate Attorney;

Ursula Smith, Associate Attorney; Charice Holtsclaw, Associate Attorney; Marc Dudley, Associate Attorney; Gina Mannella, Paralegal; Nicky Tenney, Paralegal; and Kimberly Hertz-Stempien, Paralegal. Although my firm had a total of nineteen staff members who worked on and billed time in this matter, we are only seeking reimbursement for myself and these aforementioned twelve individuals.

4. I have firsthand knowledge of the Firm's billing policies and hourly rates.

5. A detailed invoice of time entries and costs incurred in the above captioned matter in the District Court, Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, United States Supreme Court, and an ancillary matter in the District of Maryland over a subpoena dispute with the Department of Justice is attached hereto as Exhibit 1, Itemization of Expenses and Time Expended by Siri & Glimstad LLP.

6. Based on my professional experience, it is my opinion that the hours and rates requested in the fee application are appropriate and were necessary to obtain the results achieved.

7. The legal professionals in this matter are seeking hourly rates in accordance with the matrix established by a committee established by Judge Rubin (known as the Rubin rates), which has been repeatedly affirmed by judges in this District.¹ As the Sixth Circuit has explained it, the Rubin rates are "a list of pre-calculated billing rates tiered by years of experience" to determine a reasonable rate for the area. Linneman v. Vita-Mix Corp., 970 F.3d 621, 630 (6th Cir. 2020). These rates are adjusted with a 4% per year cost of living adjustment from a base 1983

8. It is my opinion, given my and their experience, circumstances, the work performed, and the prevailing market rates for civil rights litigation in federal court in the Southern District of Ohio, where this matter was filed, that the hourly rates requested for myself and each member of my firm reflect these well-established Rubin rates.

The Firm

9. The Firm has extensive experience in vaccine policy and litigation with approximately 40 professionals who regularly handle vaccine-related matters, including, for example: regularly representing individuals injured by vaccines in the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program within the United States Federal Court of Claims; representing individuals who seek a vaccine exemption as an employee, a student, an immigrant, or military servicemember; obtaining injunctive relief preventing discrimination against those with religious beliefs against receiving a vaccine, including an injunction against the United States Army's discrimination against its members who had beliefs contrary to obtaining a Covid-19 vaccine; representing parents who oppose government attempts to take away their right to make medical decision on behalf of their children, including obtaining an injunction against a D.C. law that permitted healthcare workers to vaccinate children eleven years of age and older without parental consent; and regularly bringing claims against federal health agencies to obtain transparency, including obtaining an order requiring FDA to release the documentation it relied upon to license Pfizer's and Moderna's Covid-19 vaccines and obtaining an order requiring CDC to release its Covid-19 vaccine V-safe data.

10. The firm has offices throughout the country and practices in those jurisdictions including New York, Los Angeles, Miami, Phoenix, Detroit, Austin, and Washington, D.C.

11. Given that this matter deals with vaccines, and because it is not typically seen as a lucrative practice area, at the time of filing the Complaint, there were a limited number of qualified law firms willing to represent clients seeking to challenge the United States military concerning its treatment of religious exemptions to the Covid-19 vaccine mandate.

Additionally, to further reduce grounds for any dispute, the Firm has not billed 188.2 hours of its time. Furthermore, all hours billed for travel time have been reduced by fifty percent. See Exhibit 1. Plaintiffs request compensation for only the following work performed:

Total:				$1,129,255.93

Other Considerations:

29. A review of the billing entries is consistent with the division of labor that took place amongst Chris Wiest, Thomas Bruns, and our firm. It reveals that from our firm, Aaron and/or I, generally took the lead in reviewing more significant pleadings; other counsel drafted certain other filings and discovery-related documents; and review and collaboration of same took place from differing experience sets.

30. In addition, as the billing entries will reflect, our firm created and maintained a class-action website for the benefit of the class, which was updated throughout the litigation as needed. Outside of the website, we also generally handled recurring communications with the class and putative class members throughout the litigation.

31. The Government directed voluminous discovery which is not reflected on the docket at the eighteen named Plaintiffs. To respond to that within the applicable response period, Plaintiffs' counsel divided the requests up in a manner that had six attorneys handling two to four clients each, with direct contact for the initial responses.

32. In addition to the requests it propounded, the Government produced more than 40,000 pages of discovery, in multiple tranches. Defendants' documents were largely produced on a rolling basis. Senior attorneys were involved in taking a general inventory at a high level and assessing whether the government had complied with the requests. The tasks of detailed review largely fell to Attorneys Wendy Cox and Dana Smith, Ms. Dana Smith as a more junior attorney, and Ms. Cox, a long-time Army Judge Advocate who would be most attuned to identifying the relevant and material documents for use in the case. Together, they would pull "hot documents" that had particular pertinence for our use and those would then be reviewed by the larger team for use in the case. They also helped guide the numerous deficiency letters that were exchanged.

33. The discovery phase of litigation involved extensive time output by Ms. Smith and Ms. Cox which is reflected in the billing entries as well. As previously stated, Defendants provided more than 40,000 pages of documents via seven productions throughout the course of discovery. These productions consisted of more than 3,100 separate documents of varying lengths and file types, that were not titled or grouped in any apparent or organized way. Furthermore, several of the Microsoft Excel documents produced by Defendants were ambiguous to the extent that multiple follow-up communications with opposing counsel were required to clarify their contents.

34. As an example, Defendants were asked to produce documents that had influenced their decision-making as it pertained to their mandatory Covid-19 vaccination policy, as well as documents reflecting their decision-making as it pertained to granting or denying religious accommodation requests to the mandate. Their productions included numerous lengthy weekly reports of Covid-19 infections, hospitalizations, and deaths within the United States military as well as lengthy scientific studies, news updates, and internal presentations on the severity of Covid-19 infections and the effectiveness of Covid-19 vaccines. All of the aforementioned documents had to be carefully reviewed for compelling interest analysis under the strict scrutiny standard and sorted to reflect documents that were relevant to future depositions and litigation.

35. Defendants' productions also included numerous religious accommodation packet submissions from random servicemembers across the entire United States Air Force. These documents pertaining to the government's multi-step process were presented in piecemeal format, not necessarily grouped by applicant or document type, and thus had to be organized in order to be meaningfully reviewed as complete submissions. This meticulous process was necessary because despite numerous requests, and an order from this Court, the government never produced any consistent statistical data regarding the total number of religious accommodation requests that had been granted or denied.

36. In terms of responding to Defendants' discovery requests from each of the eighteen Plaintiffs, preparation of those responses required a review of each Plaintiff's email and social media activities dating back to the start of the pandemic, which for some Plaintiffs spanned across various platforms and included extremely lengthy messages, posts, and videos which had to be carefully reviewed by an attorney for responsiveness and privilege.

36. Finally, Ms. Cox and Ms. Mannella handled the majority of incoming client contact after the class was certified. After creating a class website, email platform, and phone line for putative class members, Ms. Cox and Ms. Mannella reviewed and responded to more than 300 emails and phone calls from putative class members, with some inquiries requiring multiple email responses and phone calls. The volume and complexity of class member inquiries and concerns was exacerbated by the government's continued issuance of disciplinary and separation documents to class members despite previous orders issued by this Court, which clearly prohibited separation. Each time additional disciplinary notices were issued to class members contrary to the Court's orders, Ms. Cox, Ms. Smith, and Ms. Mannella had to address client inquiries regarding them, review the documents received by Plaintiffs, and prepare and file notices of factual developments to the Court with accompanying declarations regarding same.

37. Throughout the litigation, Plaintiffs' counsel also received emails, phone calls, and documents coming in from class members and putative class members, across the globe, with respect to emerging developments regarding the vaccination mandate and the Air and Space Force's handling of it.

38. While depositions were never taken or defended, they were noticed, and there were a few false starts with some efforts underway to take those depositions.

39. Also complicating this matter (and increasing the hours billed) were two parallel appeals in the Sixth Circuit: one on the individual eighteen-Plaintiff preliminary injunction (Case No. 22-3497) and one on the class-wide preliminary injunction (Case No. 22-3702).

40. The Firm's involvement in this case spanned a period of more than two years, and the litigation involved eighteen named Plaintiffs with varying religious beliefs. The case also involved multiple governmental defendants with substantial, near unlimited legal resources at their disposal. Both of these facts significantly increased the complexity and, therefore, the number of hours expended compared to a single plaintiff and single defendant case. Furthermore, the Firm did not seek reimbursement for any fees or costs from Plaintiffs.

41. Even given the aforementioned qualifications of the professionals who worked on this case, this litigation was exceptionally challenging. It involved complex and novel issues of constitutional law, each of which was intensely challenged by the Government. Therefore, staffing this case adequately and appropriately was necessary.

42. Challenging vaccination requirements on religious grounds, especially during a pandemic, increased the unpopularity and difficulty of this case. Prior to Covid-19, strong Supreme Court support for vaccine mandates had endured for over a century. (See Jacobson v. Massachusetts, 197 U.S. 11 (1905).) Given the unpopular nature of challenges involving vaccine mandates, there are not many attorneys willing to take on matters like the instant case.

43. Due to their expertise and substantial resources, the Government was prevailing in the majority of contemporaneous challenges involving military vaccine mandates. Therefore, a high degree of specialization and skill was necessary to overcome its arguments.

44. Each attorney's unique experience was considered when staffing this case to ensure that work was performed as efficiently as possible. Tasks were delegated to more junior attorneys whenever possible. However, many pleadings and motions required high-level strategy and analysis and, as such, required extensive involvement from more experienced attorneys. For similar reasons, most litigation decisions were made as a team and critical motions and pleadings were reviewed by different counsel from the perspective of their varied experiences. Billing judgment was exercised at all times and hours were billed contemporaneously.

45. In light of the substantial workload of this case due to its novel nature, the number of plaintiffs and defendants involved, and the aggressive posture taken by both sides, Plaintiffs' counsel were forced to focus their resources almost exclusively on this case for the hours reflected in the attached itemized time entries to the exclusion of other work.

46. The expenses incurred by the Firm relating to this matter total $8,326.43. These expenses were necessary to the resolution of this case. Most of these costs are airfare and hotel costs related to the preliminary injunction hearing.

47. Plaintiffs have made their intention of seeking attorneys' fees clear from the start of this litigation as they requested attorneys' fees in the original Complaint. (Dkt. 1 at 17.)

48. Accordingly, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant their Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs, totaling $1,129,255.93 (comprising $1,120,929.50 in fees and $8,326.43 in costs).

49. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1746, I declare under penalties of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing Declaration is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief and that such facts are made based on my personal knowledge.
